Save your voice with the PA-200 personal waistband voice amplifier

The Enersound PA-200 is a state-of-the-art personal waistband voice amplifier with a sleek modern design. It is hands-free, worn like a belt around the waist and very comfortable. You no longer have to strain your precious voice thanks to the Enersound PA-200 and its powerful 10-watt amplifier. It can be used indoors and outdoors. It is powered by a NiMH rechargeable battery and an intelligent charging circuit that extend the battery life up to 12 hrs per charge for the longest lasting performance of its kind. It features a microphone and an auxiliary input to connect to an MP3/CD player that allows playing of pre-recorded presentations. This system comes with a high-quality headband microphone, a charging power adapter, a sturdy waist band and a 3.5 mm plug auxiliary cable. The PA-200 voice amplifier comes in black and white and other colors are available for special orders. The PA-200 personal waistband amplifier is ideal for teaching, guided tours, meetings, entertainment, corporate training, coaching, fitness, public speaking, kids camps, sales presentations, classrooms, meeting rooms, houses of worship, tour groups, fitness centers, kids' camps, sales presentations, trade shows, auctions, as well as for many other applications where voice amplification is needed.
